

Ruler's Law is found in these forms of government: monarchy, autocracy, plutocracy, aristocracy, oligarchy, empire, military dictatorship.

Characterized by: ruling group makes the law, interprets the law, enforces the law

Undesirable characteristics of Rulers Law

*Government power enforced by compulsion, force, conquest, or legislative usurpation *power is concentrated in the ruler *people are 'subjects' of the ruler *land is the 'realm' of the ruler *people have no unalienable rights

* government by the rule of men rather than by the rule of law *people are defined in social and economic classes *government comes down to the people, not from the people upward *problems solved by edict, more bureaucrats, administrators, more taxes.

*Freedom never considered a solution to anything

*Rulers Law has a history of blood and terror

Giving up sovereignty to multinational groups definition of sovereignty - Sovereignty, though its meanings have varied across history, also has a core meaning, supreme authority within a territory. It is a modern notion of political authority. Historical variants can be understood along three dimensions — the holder of sovereignty, the absoluteness of sovereignty, and the internal and external dimensions of sovereignty. The state is the political institution in which sovereignty is embodied. An assemblage of states forms a sovereign states system.
